1. Warm Welcome and New Year Message

- Greeting and Rejoicing:
 - Mama D begins by warmly greeting everyone, reminding her sisters that “this is the day that the Lord has made” and encouraging them to rejoice.
 - She offers blessings for a prosperous, happy, and blessed new year.
 - God’s Unchanging Nature:
 - Even though it is a brand new year, Mama D emphasizes that God remains the same.
 - She reassures everyone that, regardless of how uncertain things may seem, God is in control of every circumstance.

2. Trusting God in the Midst of Uncertainty

- Divine Preparation:
 - Mama D stresses that even when life appears confusing or unprepared, God is busy preparing things behind the scenes.
 - Her message echoes that “all things work together for good,” inviting the sisters to rest in the assurance of God’s guidance.
 - Vertical vs. Horizontal Relationships:
 - Vertical Relationship: Mama D explains that a strong, personal connection with God is the cornerstone of life.
 - Handling Daily Challenges: She teaches that once your relationship with God is secure, all the other (horizontal) issues in daily life will be managed accordingly.
 - Living by Faith:
 - The call is to trust God completely—even when the end isn’t clear—and to give Him pleasure in everything from work to everyday activities.
 - Mama D reminds her sisters that their confidence must rest in knowing that God directs their paths.

3. Obedience and Preparation in an Unprepared World

- The Paradox of “Unprepared Preparation”:
 - Mama D speaks candidly about life’s unexpected challenges that can make us feel unprepared.
 - She highlights that by preparing ourselves through obedience to God—even when we don’t fully understand—we position ourselves for His guidance.
 - Key Scriptural Insights:
 - Obedience as the Key:
 - Mama D reinforces that faith and obedience are essential in pleasing God, citing scriptures from Romans, Revelation, and Proverbs.
 - “For Such a Time as This” (Esther 4:14):
 - This verse underlines the truth that every individual has a divinely assigned purpose, even amidst unexpected challenges.
 - Biblical Examples:
 - Noah:
 - Mama D uses Noah’s example to show that even when one has no complete understanding (like Noah with the rain), obedience to God’s command leads to salvation.
 - Esther:
 - She shares Esther’s story as a powerful reminder of trusting God in unknown territory.
 - Despite being unprepared for her royal role, Esther’s obedient heart—guided by her adoptive father Mordecai’s counsel—enabled her to fulfill God’s plan.

4. Practical Applications for Daily Life

- Handling Life's Challenges:
 - Mama D advises that when unexpected difficulties (like financial struggles or personal setbacks) arise, we should “trust in the Lord with all your heart” (Proverbs 3:5-6).
 - Even in moments of anger or confusion, she urges her sisters to lean on God’s perfect plan.
 - Personal Commitment:
 - Mama D shares her own commitment to follow God’s direction without needing to understand every detail.
 - She reminds everyone that each believer has a unique, God-ordained place—a “seat at the King’s table”—where God supplies all their needs.

5. Conclusion and Encouragement

- Embracing Our Unique Role:
 - Mama D closes with the message that every sister’s unique purpose is part of God’s perfect design.
 - Even amid uncertainty, trusting in God’s plan is paramount.
- Obedience Leads to Blessing:
 - By choosing obedience over confusion—even in unprepared moments—we align ourselves with God’s promises and provisions.
 - Mama D’s heartfelt call is to step forward in faith and obedience, confident that God’s road map for each one is both perfect and purposeful.
